COMPROMISE

Be more flexible as your child enters adolescence and consider bending on behaviors that are likely to be temporary and are not dangerous

Use the extra space to jot down ideas:

1

2

3

4

NEGOTIATION

1. Listen to your child without interrupting
2. Be respectful of your child and withhold judgments
3. Focus on the present and refrain from mentioning any past mistakes
4. Stay on subject at hand
5. Provide a few alternatives without being authoritative or judgmental

PROBLEM SOLVING

1. Identify and state the problem
2. Prompt and encourage potential solutions
3. Identify a few ways to handle the problem
4. Go through each strategy and identify its consequences
5. Select the solution based on the best consequences
6. Role play the situation and the selected solution